Partnering with Vodafone to connect young people to relevant digital jobs

Assessments from cut-e are helping to power Vodafone’s new multinational digital jobs initiative cut-e is delighted to have partnered with Vodafone on what is the world’s largest digital skills and jobs initiative. Vodafone’s Future Jobs Finder is a smartphone-based service that offers career guidance and access to training content, to help young people across 18 countries find suitable digital job opportunities. Our assessments are used to help young people uncover their strengths and work preferences. The insights provided can be added to a CV to make that person stand out from the crowd. The real beauty of the Future Job Finder is that it then guides young people towards a digital career that will really suit them.
